EACH IS FRIEND OF TRIBE

Seventh District Congressman Proves Valuable Aid to Band of Warriors

(By Joseph K. Kidder)

After more than a century of persistent refusal to accept the ways of the white man, during which time their tribe has been rent asunder by factional disputes over the allotment of lands, the Stockbridge Indians, composed of the remnants of the famous Stockbridge and Munsee tribes, have decided to adopt the rules of civilization.

The result will be the establishment in Shawano county, Wisconsin, of the first genuine "American township" in the United States. All of the town officers are to be full-blooded Indians, the direct descendants of the early chiefs who helped make history in Massachusetts, New York and other New England states.

The decision ends the dispute within the tribe as to whether the lands shall be individually allotted or held in common and means the windup of all affairs between the Indians and the United States government.

Each Indians' Friend
During all the "pow-wows" at which the destiny of the tribe has been discussed the Indians have found no better friend or advisor than Congressman John J. Esch, of La Crosse, who has been in a measure responsible for the decision of the warriors to give up the gun, teepee and blanket of the brave for the hot, shade and clothes of the white.
When the first election of town officers is to be held has not been decided but advice is being obtained by the Indians from the United States district attorney's office in Milwaukee now.

Aid the French
The French and Indian war, which broke out in 1754 marked the start of the decline of this famous tribe.
During that historic conflict they sided with the French. This aroused the ire of many of the other Indian tribes and at the close of the war they were forced to move, partly because of the decrease in their number with constant warring with other tribes and partly because the New Englanders were incensed over their affiliation with the French. Their number reduced to a beggarly band of about 200, their villages pillaged and burned by their enemies, it was with joy that they accepted the invitation in 1785 to join the Oneidas on their territory in Madison and Oneida counties, New York. It was then that another village sprang up on what is now the site of the present Stockbridge, New York.

The removal of the Stockbridges required two years but under the protection of the friendly Oneidas they increased in number until in 1796 their tribe numbered 300.

It was in 1882 that they first affiliated with the Munsees, one of the three principal divisions of the Delaware.
The Munsees originally occupied the headwaters of the Delaware river in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania and also held the west bank of the Hudson river from the Catskill mountains nearly to the New Jersey line. The bands along the Hudson were prominent in the early history of New York but as the white settlers increased they joined their tribesmen along the Delaware.
Some of them later affiliated with the Mohawks and it was in 1740 that these Indians, by a fraudulent treaty known as the "Walking treaty" were forced to move from the

Taft Gives Up Personal Onslaught Against T. R. and Lauds His Administration

PRIMARIES TO MEAN MUCH

Result of Tomorrow's Vote in Bay State Anxiously Awaited by All Candidates

ATTLEBORO, Mass., April 29.— President Taft, following T. R.'s trail through the factory district of Massachusetts, abandoned his personal attack on his predecessor here and confined himself to his administration labor record—employers' liability and workmen's compensation.
The president also claimed for Payne-Aldrich tariff the credit for the prosperity of this busy jewelry manufacturing town. Although it was 8 a. m. a big crowd packed the station grounds to hear Taft. He said in part:

Liability Law
"One of the things that the laboring men and workmen have the right to complain of is the common law liability of masters and employers to those of their employees who were injured. The law seems to have been drawn at a time when conditions were entirely different and the laboring man and the workman did not have a fair chance when he brought suit for injuries sustained in employment. Now that relation of employee to employer has been looked after by what is called an employers' liability act. But not content with that, and in order to make the injuries a real basis for insurance in their behalf, we have appointed a congressional committee which has recommended a workman's compensation act by which unless a man voluntarily injures himself he receives compensation at a fixed rate according to his wages and according to his injury.

"In other words the railway companies are required to have an insurance fund that shall make whole those of their employees who, suffering from the dangers and risks of the business, are subject to injuries which may prevent their earning a livelihood at all. Now I say that kind of legislation is not only progressive, not only just, but it shows that the attitude which you of Attleboro ought to recognize and approve."

Lincoln Denounces T. R.
On the train coming to New England the president gave out a letter from Robert T. Lincoln, son of Abraham Lincoln, and formerly head of the Pullman Car company denouncing Roosevelt for "perverting and misapplying" his father's words and views.

The president of the United States and the only living ex-president, both striving for nomination in the first presidential primaries of Massachusetts, crossed each other's trains today in their eleventh hour whirlwind campaign in the midst of the Bay state.

It was a verbal duel for ballots such as Massachusetts never witnessed before, on the eve of any election. And while the president and ex-president lambasting each other, representatives of Speaker Champ Clark and Governor Wilson of New Jersey were working in all the large cities and towns in the interests of primary votes for the nomination for president by the democratic party.

Results Mean Much
Local headquarters of the Taft organizations and the respective headquarters of Roosevelt, Wilson and Clark frankly and nervously admitted that the Massachusetts primary vote tomorrow will mean even more pronounced at the respective republican headquarters than at the offices of Wilson and Clark.
The real fight is between Taft and Roosevelt. Publicly both sides are claiming victory.

FINED FOR BREAKING SPEED ORDINANCE

speed limit ordinance is the arrest of R. Bartobick and John Schomers for the fast driving of a horse. When

Two high school lads were fined $1

the sidewalk. The fine was remitted.

GREAT WANT PREVAILS AMONG VICTIMS OF MISSISSIPPI FLOOD GOVERNMENT FEEDS DAILY THOUSANDS OF PENNILESS REFUGEES

At the top, barke piled with sacks of corn meal; at the bottom, U. S. army officers superintending the landing of supplies

The Mississippi floods have subsided, but they have left in their wake thousands of homeless, pen-less men, women and children. Congress has appropriated several hundreds of thousands of dollars and will probably be asked to appropriate more. Uncle Sam has been feeding daily in the flood districts rations to about seventy thousand flood victims. In addition to taking care of the refugees the government is furnishing 7,200 head of stock with forage. Memphis is the place at which a large share of the supplies are landed.

ORDERS REAPER ACTION BROUGHT

Taft Will Have Action Against Harvester Trust Started Day of Massachusetts Primaries

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Suit to dissolve the International Harvester company will be brought in the United States court in St. Paul, Minn., tomorrow according to an announcement made today at the department of justice.

The decision to file the suit tomorrow, the day of the Massachusetts presidential primaries is believed to have been reached at a conference held between President Taft and Attorney General Wickersham during the president's brief Sunday stay in Washington.

Until the bill praying for a judiciary decree ordering the Harvester trust dissolved is filed in court, the terms are to be kept a close secret.

It is announced that determination to file the suit follows the inability of the government and the company's legal representatives to agree on terms of voluntary dissolution, discussion of which has occupied several months.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 29.— Seven firemen were injured last night when the roof of the First Unitarian church collapsed, burying the men with debris, during one of the most spectacular fires in down-church, which was partially wrecked, is estimated at $25,000.

MEXICO CITY, April 29.—
The home of the American consular agent at Topia, Durango was sacked and burned by rebels according to advices received here this afternoon. The attack was made last night but the inhabitants escaped unharmed. All of their personal belongings were lost.

In view of the already strained relations between the United States and Mexico, authorities here are alarmed at the report of the sacking of the American official's home, believing that it may be the one thing required to make Uncle Sam intervene.

DR. GUNDERSON IS APPOINTED

Named as Member of Fire and Police Commission
by Mayor Dengler; Accepts

Dr. Adolph Gunderson has been appointed a member of the Fire and Police Commission by Mayor John Dengler to fill the vacancy made by the expiration of the term of Commissioner William Torrance May 1. According to the announcement of Mayor Dengler today Dr. Gunderson has accepted the appointment.

"Dr. Gunderson is a broad minded man with the interests of La Crosse at heart," said the mayor, "and I believe that his appointment will meet with the approval of the majority of the citizens. It will be particularly pleasing to the Scandinavians who have been hitherto unrepresented on the board. In view of the fact that a large percentage of the population here is Scandinavian, I believe they should be represented."

Dr. Gunderson is a member of the firm of Christensen and Gunderson, and is recognized as one of the most capable surgeons in this part of the northwest.

Mr. Torrance, twice mayor of La Crosse, has served on the commission for five years being appointed by Mayor W. A. Anderson in 1907.

SPECIAL SESSION OPENS TOMORROW

Legislators to Convene to Act on Water Power Bill and Appropriations

SESSION WILL BE SHORT ONE

McGovern and Ingram Hope to Adjourn Session Within Ten Days

.....
Lieutenant Governor Morris will leave for Madison tonight to attend the special session of the legislature called by Gov-nor F. E. McGovern for the purpose of amending the water power law. Assemblyman J. E.
McConnell will leave for Madison tomorrow. State Senator Otto Bosshard will be unable to attend the special session, having left for California to stump the state for La Follette. Committee meetings during the last two weeks have served to shorten the session.
Members of the legislature declare that the session will pass without opposition on any question nearly all being agreed on the different matters that will be brought up.

MADISON, Wis., April 29.—Every measure possible to expedite business in the special session of the legislature opening tomorrow afternoon has been adopted in advance by the administration leaders, and if the members co-operate in the plan for an early adjournment it is possible that Governor McGovern's desire to confine the work to a single week may be fulfilled. The first steps to this end were taken two weeks ago at a conference between Governor McGovern, Lieutenant Governor Thomas Morris and Speaker Charles A. Ingram. Here the preliminary plans were fully developed in order to secure speedy action, if possible, upon the matters covered by the governor's call for the session.

The presiding officers of the two houses reviewed with the governor all the subjects included in the call and to expedite the preliminary work of the session designated the committees to which the bills will be allotted. All these bills have been numbered and are being printed, and will be upon the desks of the members upon their arrival tomorrow.

Resolutions are being prepared to continue the full organization of both houses, and upon their adoption and the reading of the governor's message hearings will immediately be begun on those bills introduced in accordance with the official call.

Speaker Ingram, when questioned as to whether or not legislation will be confined to bills prepared in accordance with the governor's message, said that there is no rule which prohibits a member from introducing any bill which may come within the purview of the special call, but that to secure an early adjournment he believed the members of both houses would co-operate generally to confine the matters to be considered as closely as possible to the questions directly raised by the governor.

At the request of the recent conference between the governor and the presiding officers, the committees of water powers and conservancy and on finance held meetings recently to go over the water power bill and that for aiding Black River Falls and Portage. The finance committee has prepared three bills for introduction, aggregating appropriations of about $138,000 for Black River Falls. That for the Portage levee calls for an appropriation for temporary repairs and the appointment of a committee to devise some permanent plan for improvement of the river banks to guard against overflow, and the charging of the expense of such improvement to the property owners protected or benefited.

The special session will open at 3 p. m.

CAIRO FLOODED AGAIN

CAIRO, Ill., April 29.—Owing to the rising river the floodgates at the subway are closed here again today.
The subway is the shutoff between Cairo and the flooded drainage district on the north. The flooded section was nearly free from water last Friday but this morning between two and three feet of water is again over that territory.

ineffectual attempt to butt his brains out against a stone wall after he had held his sweetheart, Rosa Kolar, 17, to his breast and shot her dead when she refused to marry him, Jacob Krejci, 30, a tal-lor, begged Municipal Judge Backus today to sentence him to death for the crime. Instead, the judge imposed a sentence to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary.

Roosevelt Says Even if Taft
Was Not at Cabinet Meeting He Knew
All About It

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Declaring that he was not even present at the meeting of the Roosevelt cabinet at which the postponement of the Harvester trust suit was discussed, President Taft last night answered Colonel Roosevelt's charge he had offered the motion that the suit be delayed.

Mr. Taft's alibi is backed up by Senator Root and Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, who were in the cabinet at the time, and by Commissioner of Corporations Smith. Root and Wilson declare that the prosecution of the Harvester trust was not discussed at any meeting of the cabinet. Taft also asserts that this is true.

Was on Pacific

In addition, Taft says that when Roosevelt was consulting with the attorney general, Bonaparte, over the letter of Herbert Knox Smith, advising against the prosecution of the trust, he was on the Pacific ocean out from Seattle, bound for the Philippines.

Taft states that Roosevelt took up the Harvester trust suit August 22, 1907. The letter from Smith is dated September 21. It was given to Bonaparte
September 24.

He adds that after a trip through the country starting in June, he (Taft) returned to Washington Aug.
14, and left August 18 for a trip through the west, reaching Seattle September 8. Five days later he sailed for the Philippines. In addition, Taft quotes a letter from Smith declaring that if the matter was discussed in the cabinet at all, it must have come up after September 24.

Explains His Delay
Taft explained that the reason his administration has not filed suit is that the Harvester company asked time to draw up a plan of dissolution or reorganization that would do away with all cause of complaint.

This time was granted, and investigators went over the books of the company. They have, however, been unable to reach any agreement which satisfies the government, and Taft says the attorney general was ordered April 24, Wednesday last, to bring suit against the alleged trust.

Meyer Left Opt

In making out the statement of his alibi, Taft consulted all the men in Washington who were members of the Roosevelt cabinet. Root and Wilson were the only ones who would make statements. It is regarded by some as significant that Secretary of the Navy Meyer, who was postmaster,

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION BUSY

MADISON, Wis., April 29.—Compared with other commissions, the volume of business done by the Wisconsin civil service commission, in proportion to number of employees and appropriation, is large. The commission has gathered data and compiled a statement showing the extent of its activities and accomplishments. Since the law went into effect in January, 1906, there has been a steady increase in the number of departments and officers and employees. As against 1,927 officers and employees in 1906, there are now 3,252. The total increase is largely due to the growth of the university, which in 1906 had 552 professors, instructors and employees, and in 1912 had 1,254; and to the creation of new departments.

NORTHWEST NEWS

FISH DISAPPEARING NEAR MENOMINEE

MENOMINEE, Mich., April 29.—Many bay shore fishermen are discarding their nets and turning their attention to other occupations. Fish are bringing but $1.50 a package and the catches are poor. At this price the fishermen declare that they can realize no profit. Last fall $2 a package was paid for herring and two years ago the fishermen received $3.50. Spring fishing is held responsible, when the fish netted are small and not up to the market standard. The fish are killed in the spawning season and the waters of the bay are depleted. Legislation to prohibit spring catches is being agitated here.

NON-PARTISANS TO INTRODUCE BILLS

MADISON, Wis., April 29.—It is now certain that two non-partisan election bills will be introduced at the special session of the legislature which opens tomorrow. One will provide for non-partisan elections in cities of the first class and the second for the same system in counties of 250,000 or over, applying to Milwaukee city and county respectively. They will be offered by Assemblyman Erich C. Stern of Milwaukee. It is understood the preparation of the bills is practically completed.

DIETZ DECISION IS POSTPONED

MADISON, Wis., April 29.—The Supreme court Saturday finished hearing arguments of cases called for the sitting beginning last Tuesday and adjourned until 10 o'clock a. m. on May 14. CAMP FIRE IS DISPLACED BY THE TOWN HALL

Delaware and settle on the Susquehanna river on lands assigned them by the Indians. The Munsees were gradually driven westward and in Indiana joined the Shawnee, Shawnee and other tribes. Later they came into Wisconsin where what was left of the once powerful band joined the Stockbridge.

Settle Near Green Bay

In 1833, the year that the Munsee, Oneida and Stockbridge joined they settled on a tract of land near the head of Green Bay, Wis., which they had purchased from the Menominee. Since that date they have become one tribe and are known as the Stockbridge.

From the time of leaving New York the tribe has been divided on questions regarding land and citizenship and after interminable negotiations with the government, covering the entire period since the United States was established, no agreement was reached. In 1839 the Stockbridge and Munsee sold half their land and agreed to move on land assigned them west of the Mississippi river. The remaining portion of land east of Winnebago lake was laid out as a town upon which those who desired to become citizens were to be permitted to settle. About eighty removed to the land west of the Mississippi, near Port Leavenworth, Kan. This arrangement proved unsatisfactory, as had all other previous agreements, and they were once more united under tribal government.

In 1856 they removed, with the exception of a number who desired to become private citizens, to a reservation west of Shawano, Shawano county, Wisconsin, where in 1909 the united tribes, including the Munsee, numbered 582 souls.

Treaty after treaty with this famous band proved unavailing and all attempts on the part of the government to settle their affairs have proven futile. Perhaps the most notable treaty was that of 1789, the first.

While the Stockbridge Indians had proven able allies of the French in the French and Indian war they were friendly with the states throughout the American revolution and in recognition of their valuable services during the conflict, which resulted in the freedom of this country from England's yoke, a treaty was passed and signed in 1794. This treaty rewarded them in money for the services, allotted lands, provided for the establishment of mills and in a word was planned to provide for the Indians for the remainder of their life. This document was signed by the famous early day Chiefs Hendrick Ampamut, Joseph Quenney, John Konkapot and Jacob Konkapot.

Split Over Land

But then as ever the question of division of the lands came up and set the purpose of the treaty at naught. There was within the tribes one faction that was for individual allotment of the lands while the opposing faction was for the holding of the lands in common.

This same point of issue has dragged through the history of the tribe since the original treaty and it was not until now that they agreed upon a course that will result in the winding up of their affairs with the United States government.

Tired out by constant moving, their band gradually decreasing in number, until they are but a pitiful representation of the once strong tribe, and none the richer, they have decided to adopt the white man's methods.

The result is the decision to have what remains of their original land west of Lake Winnebago and that land which the government intends to give them laid out into a township.

They are to become citizens and already are planning the organization of a town government. Officials in Milwaukee have been appealed to for "Rules of Order" and they have been equipped with booklets on parliamentary practice.

Hatchet Buried Forever

The United States government is overjoyed at this agreement which apparently will solve the difficulties between the government and tribe.

The Indians are to lay aside the marks of the "only real Americans" they are to become honest, industrious and hardworking citizens along the lines laid down by the whites who now proclaim themselves as Americans. The hatchet has been buried never more to be unearthed. The camp fire around which the pipe of peace was wont to be smoked is to give place to the town hall where the various chiefs—or town officers as they are now to be—will meet at stated intervals to discuss the future for the members of the band.

In a word the famous Stockbridge and Munsee Indian is to pass into oblivion—the town of Stockbridge, Shawano county, Wisconsin, is to spring upon the map. The descendants of Konkapot and other famous chiefs are to take a place in the place in history and in the future they will be known as merely citizens of what was the first Indian township in North America.

For Your Spring Work

Have you learned how "Chicago AA" Portland Cement is made? It is a story of great interest to the man who uses cement. It tells how the raw materials are taken from the quarries; how they are weighed, proportioned, crushed and conveyed to the mills; it describes the "Chicago AA" process of drying, grinding and then burning the raw mixture to a "clinker" and explains in an interesting way, the method of cooling the "clinker" and grinding and re-grinding it, thus producing "Chicago AA" Portland Cement—"the best that can be made."

Read this story:—

It will enable you to better appreciate the superiority of the "Double A" brand—it will guide you in the selection of a cement for your work in the future.

A HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR

A Little Sage and Sulphur Makes Gray Hair Vanish:—A Remedy for All Hair Troubles

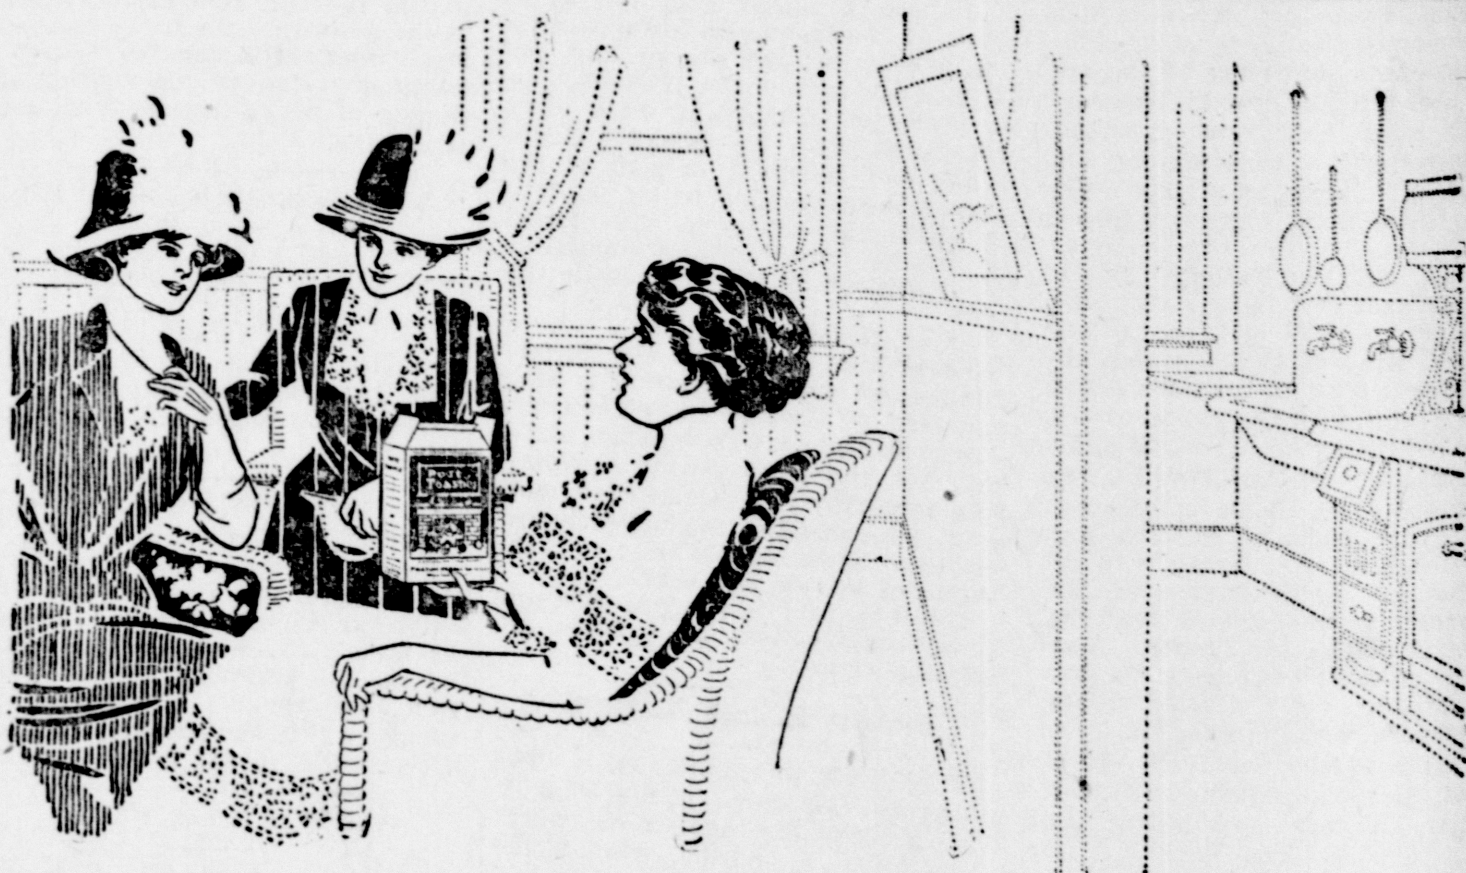

Who does not know the value of Sage and Sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, Sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature, grayness, than Sage and Sulphur, if properly prepared.

The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put out an ideal preparation of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, in which sage and sulphur are combined with other valuable remedies for keeping the hair and scalp in clean, healthy condition.

If your hair is losing its color or constantly coming out, or if you are troubled with dandruff or dry, itchy scalp, get a fifty cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggists, use it according to the simple directions, and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in the appearance of your hair.

All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented.

S.S.S. NATURE'S TONIC

The very great majority of persons need a tonic in the Spring or early Summer. The system undergoes a change at this season and the entire physical machinery is disturbed. The general bodily weakness, a tired, worn-out feeling, fickle appetite, poor digestion, a half sick feeling and a general run-down condition of the system, show that the blood is weak or anemic, and a blood purifying tonic is needed to build up the deranged system and enrich the blood. The use of S.S.S. at this time may save you from a long spell of sickness, and it will certainly prepare you for the long, hot Summer. Many people have put off using a tonic until the system became so weakened and depleted it could not successfully throw off disease germs, and have paid for the neglect with a spell of fever, malaria or some other debilitating sickness. S.S.S. is Nature's ideal tonic. It is a composition of the extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks which science and experience have proven are best fitted for a tonic to the human system. It contains no minerals of any kind and is therefore perfectly safe for persons of any age. S.S.S. tones up the stomach and digestion, rids the system of that tired, worn-out feeling, and imparts vigor and strength to every part of the body. It purifies and enriches the blood, stimulates the secreting and excreting members to better action, quiets the over-strained nerves, and makes one feel better in every way.

STOP MOTORCYCLE SCORCHERS NOW

Recently an order was issued by Mayor Dengler instructing the police department to enforce the speed ordinance affecting automobiles.

Why was that necessary?

Why is not this speed ordinance always rigidly enforced?

That is the trouble with many of our best laws. We pass them, but do not enforce them.

We believe many autoists are not paying due respect to this law. We believe they should be made to do so. But we believe another class of "scorchers" are proving much more dangerous than the motor car men. We refer to the motorcyclist.

Recently a prominent citizen came into The Tribune office and made the following statement of facts:

"I was on Cass street, early in the morning. At the moment the street was almost deserted. The only person I saw was a little child, perhaps four years of age crossing the street at Tenth. Just then a man on a motorcycle turned into Cass street and came up it at top speed. I believe he was going at least thirty miles an hour. He came straight up the center of the street and passed behind the child, less than six feet from it. My heart was in my mouth. The man evidently

Some of the healthiest men and women in La Crosse are great eaters of "Minnesota" macaroni and spaghetti. Many people who never cared for these foods before are delighted with the rich, nut-like flavor of "Minnesota" macaroni and spaghetti and it is surprising how much better a family will feel by eating more of these foods and less meat.

Good macaroni and spaghetti are the best and most nourishing foods known. They are fine for children—making their bodies strong and healthy. But if you want that rich, nut-like flavor be sure and get the delicious "Minnesota" brand macaroni or spaghetti—made from the finest Northern Durum wheat, with all the nourishing Gluten left in. MOTHERS' DAY MAY 14

MADISON, Wis., April 29.—It is likely that "Mothers' day" which last year was observed on May 14, will be made a special event in this state this year. Mark Was Right

Mark Twain was visiting H. H. Rogers, who, leading the humorist to his library, said, as he pointed to a bust of white marble, "What do you think of that?"

It was a bust of a young woman coiling her hair, a very graceful example of modern Italian sculpture. Mr. Clemens looked at it a moment and then he said:

"It isn't true to nature."

"Why not?" Mr. Rogers answered. "She ought to have her mouth full of hairpins," said the humorist.—National Monthly.

The Policeman Had "One of Them"

One day, many years ago, the telephone in the office of the chief of police rang. Chief Speers answered. The call was from a new policeman on the Union avenue beat.

"Which one have you?" asked the chief.

The reply came back, "The man that was robbed!"—Kansas City Star.

Nebraska Decides

News Item: Nebraska was quite decisive in her preference for presidential nominees. Roosevelt carried everything before him on the Republican ticket and Champ Clark did the same on the Democratic.

This is certainly an era of people knowing what they want and going after it. We find this expressed here daily in the loyalty our patrons show us in appreciation of the great clothes values and satisfaction we always deliver.

TO SMOKE OR NOT. ZION CITY QUESTION

Wilbur Glenn Voliva.

To smoke or not to smoke—That is the question that is just now agitating Zion City, Ill., the model town founded by Alexander Dowie some years ago, and now presided over by his successor, Wilbur Glenn Voliva. Recently a new factory started at Zion City and Voliva discovered that some of the employees used tobacco. The use of tobacco is against Zion City ordinances. So Voliva sent an emissary to the workers, to urge them not to smoke.

"You have come to break our laws," he said. "You have come to make unclean this city of purity with your nasty tobacco habits and worse curse of drink."

Voliva and his followers declare they will drive the smokers out, "not by carnal weapons, but through prayer and the mighty sword of the spirit of our religion."

Creating a Demand

We sit upon the bleachers
A-rooting for our nine;
The sun parboils our features
With its persistent shine.
While wildly we are yelling,
As if we'd rather stop;
"Robber!" "Hi! Call de cop!"
The peanut butcher's selling
Pop!

We go on fiercely hating
The umpire, worst of men.
Him loudly we're berating;
"Aw! Put him in de pen!"
With him, as we are telling,
The earth we'd like to mop;
We'd grill him like a chop!
That butcher's calmly selling
Pop!

From rage, with thirst we suffer,
We guzzle pop amain;
We cannot get enough, or Long time we strive in vain
Our need is so compelling
We make that butcher hop.
We'd drink up every drop;
And so he goes on selling Pop! Ex.

Flight of Fancy

Harry Furness, the witty English illustrator—came to America, he stated, because the strike had left no coal for the Furness—said at a dinner party that was given in his honor in New York:

"The secret of successful humorously illustrating is modernity, up to dateness, down to the minuteness."

"Modernity, you know, is always valuable. A man's wife said to him on his return at 4 o'clock the other morning:

"There, there! Don't put your shoes in the bureau and your necktie on the floor. And so you've been up all night again, have you?"

"Yes, m'dear," the man answered, "Up all night in a Wright biplane—hic. Got lost in clouds an' couldn't find way down till daylight—hic."—Washington Star.

Interviewing a Preacher

The pastor began by interviewing the little girl before he knew that she was doing something in that line herself, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Are you a preacher?" she asked. "I am," he admitted. "Preachers is good, ain't they?" "Well, they are, supposed to be." "Are you?" "I hope so." "What do you do?" "I try to make people better." "Is that all?" "Yes, that is enough. If I can do that I shall be sure of my reward." "What reward?" "Heaven." "When all the good ones go?" "Yes, dear." "Well, what'll you do for a livin' when you get there?"

A Believer

Gifford Pinchot, at his brother's house, on Park avenue, New York, listened quizzically to a political story that was being submitted to him for verification by a political reporter.

When the reporter finished his narrative Mr. Pinchot laughed and said:

"I'll reply to that as the old Italian peasant replied to the statement that his fellow countrymen loved birds too well ever to eat them."

"Well, I don't mind believing that myself," the old man said, "but there's a good many who wouldn't."

Always the Case

Who are the two men who are embracing one another and drinking together?

They are deadly enemies who have had a desperate fight.

And who is the man who is brushing his clothes and wiping the blood from his face?

Oh, he is an innocent bystander.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

CHAPTER V. Two Discoveries.

"Where are we going now?" I asked sarcastically.

I was thoroughly indignant at the levity with which the inspector had received my theory of Crandall's guilt. Firmly convinced of my sound logic, the thought of Davis laughing at me before Louise tumbled. As I began to expound, as forcefully as I could, the reasons for my belief, he cut me short.

"Come along, Harding," he said in authoritative tones, "we've no time to lose."

Almost before I knew it I found myself by his side in the taxicab he had hailed. In my indignation I had failed to hear the direction he gave the chauffeur.

"According to your theory, Mr. Detective Kent," he said with assumed gravity, for he was still in a chaffing mood, "where would be the best place for us to go next?"

"To Hugh Crandall's apartments," I cried, determined to convince him of my view of the case.

"That is exactly where we are bound," he replied to my amazement.

"But," I stammered, "I thought from your manner that you disagreed with me as to Crandall's guilt."

"I do. I doubt every man's guilt until it is definitely proved. I admit there is plenty of evidence of Crandall's connection with the case. I do not admit that any of the evidence yet shows it to be a guilty connection."

Again I started to explain my reasons for thinking Crandall guilty, but again he refused to listen.

"My dear fellow," he said, "in my years of investigating crimes I have thoroughly learned one lesson, and that is the unwisdom of jumping at conclusions. There is only one rule that never fails. Collect all the evidence possible first and then see to whom it points. Most detectives, both professional and amateur, make the fatal mistake of deciding on a theory and then setting out to prove it. That is the reason so many innocent men are convicted and so many guilty ones escape. You can prove almost anything about anybody if you work hard enough. Starting out with the theory that no such man as Napoleon ever lived, I could gather many convincing proofs."

He stopped the taxicab at the corner long enough to gather in an armful of afternoon papers from a newsboy, and began scanning their first pages and throwing them aside. From the disappointment in his face I judged he had not found what he was looking for.

"What did you expect to find?" I asked wonderingly.

"Other suicides," he said tersely, keeping on with his hasty reading.

Though I have known Miller Davis for years I must confess that I constantly find myself almost dazed by the seeming rapidity of his mental processes and their apparently erratic course. Here he was rejecting my theory of Crandall's guilt, yet jumping wildly to the conclusion that there would be other suicides, possibly connected with Katharine Farrish's act and Andrew Elser's death. It was entirely beyond my comprehension, and the next tack of his mind seemed even more puzzling.

"Do you know anything about art?" he asked as calmly as if we were having an after-dinner chat at the club.

"A little, not much."

"If any one asked you to define technique I doubt if you could do it. I do not believe there is a painter or an art critic who could give a satisfactory definition. Yet any one who knows even a little about paintings knows something of technique. Show me paintings by Henri, Law, son and Glackens and you do not have to label them for me to tell them apart. I recognize the work of each man by his technique. Even if Lawson painted a portrait and Henri a landscape, the individuality of the artist would make his work recognizable, though masked by a subject unusual for him. Crime is like art in one respect at least—technique. Any one who has investigated crime, who has studied evil-doers under all conditions, who has matched his wits against theirs, inevitably comes to recognize types of crimes. Given any particular crime to trace, from the very nature of it he is able to say at once, 'This is the work of So-and-so.' Now in the Farrish case I am confident that a crime of some kind has been committed or is even now being committed. I may not know what particular thing it was that drove both Katharine Farrish and old Elser to seek death—in fact I do not know as yet—but that makes no difference. I know the type of crime. I recognize in the case certain indefinable things which convince me that behind it all is a cunning criminal brain that has planned some far-reaching plot. If it was devilishly ingenious enough to drive two people to suicide, in all probability it will have the same effect on others. There may be no other suicides, but I believe there will be. I shall watch every report of a suicide for the next few days with particular interest. Who the criminal is, and who his associate is—for I am con-

WILSON AND CLARK BAG DELEGATES, BUT DEMOCRATIC SITUATION VERY UNCERTAIN

The Democratic political situation this year is something of a puzzle. All is uncertainty. Five avowed candidates are in the field: Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey; Judson Harmon, of Ohio; Governor Marshall, of Indiana; Champ Clark, of Missouri; and Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama. Thus far Champ Clark and Woodrow Wilson have bagged most of the instructed delegates, but many uninstructed delegates will go to Baltimore. An important factor at the national convention will be the New York delegation. This lump of votes, ninety strong, will all be thrown to one candidate. Who that candidate will be, nobody knows. Probably Mayor Gaynor will get the votes on the first ballot; but he is not a candidate, and it is quite unlikely that the New York delegation will stick to him very long.

vinced it is a crime of the pair—I have no idea. Investigation of mail thefts and stamp counterfeiting never has brought me in touch with this particular sort of crime, so that as yet I am entirely at sea as regards the identity of the criminals."

"All you have said," I told him, "only convinces me that I am right about Hugh Crandall. An intelligent, educated man gone wrong, a respectable broker with a secret propensity for crime, would fit your theory, wouldn't he?"

"You saw Crandall's janitor last night, didn't you?" was all the response he chose to make to my question. "What kind of a chap is he?"

"If you can get him to admit you to Crandall's rooms you are a wonder," I replied, repeating word for word my interview with the janitor the night before.

"I generally go prepared for such fellows," he answered, smilingly drawing from his pocket a blank legal document on which the word "attachment" was printed boldly across the back. Taking out a fountain pen he rapidly filled in Hugh Crandall's name, on the outside only.

"Of course I saw through the ruse. He would represent himself as an officer, come to attach Crandall's furniture and thus gain access to the rooms."

"But suppose the janitor insists on reading the document and sees that it is blank inside?"

NEED A SEARCH LIGHT

NAVAL OFFICER SAYS TITANIC WOULD HAVE LIVED HAD SHE BEEN EQUIPPED WITH LIGHTS

WASHINGTON, April 29.—If the Titanic had been equipped with searchlights and used them to keep watch for ice of which she had been warned, the ocean leviathan would not now be lying three miles below the surface of the sea.

This was the declaration today of Captain John J. Knapp, U. S. N., one of the naval officers who has been assisting the senate investigation committee here.

"I would recommend the installation of searchlights on every ship, whether it be a tramp, plying on coastwise routes, or the ocean greyhounds in trans-oceanic navigation," he said today.

"The question of such lights aiding in navigation is debatable, but in the case of the Titanic, it would certainly have been of the greatest assistance in 'picking up ice.'"

Knapp said that the Titanic investigation had proved to him that all officers should be better schooled. These officers of the Titanic went to sea when they were in their teens and have only a practical knowledge of seamanship, navigation, engineering, or the particular branch with which they have been associated, he declared.

Don Keller in the part of "Dick Carson," George Jones as "Professor Allbright," and Elmer Wachter as "Charley Walker," captain of the Yale track team, did good work as did also Miss Florence Christie as

BAD START IS NELSON'S FINISH

Winona Pirates Get the Jump on Clothiers and Nab a Victory 8 to 3

The first inning proved disastrous for the Nelson Clothing company baseball team yesterday. In the initial round the Winona Pirates scored seven runs on errors and although they could make but one run after that the Minny leaguers defeated the local team 8 to 3.

The locals did not play up to their usual standard in the first round and five errors, combined with only one hit, allowed seven Pirates to cross the plate before the Nelsons had got started. However, after that frame the Nelsons settled down and played a great game with the result that Winona could make but one score after that time. Following that inning the locals made but one error. The Nelsons started a batting rally in the fourth inning and for a time it looked as if they were going to tie or win the game. Hard hitting by the locals sent two men across the pan. Several hits in the ninth sent one more run across the plate for the locals.

Winona used three pitchers against the Nelsons while Squires twirled the entire game for the locals and allowed the leaguers only five hits while the Nelsons secured seven safe hits.

Score by innings: R H E
Nelsons . . . 000200001—3 7 6
Winona . . . 70000-000—8 5 2
Batteries: Squires and Jorsenson; Bracket, Littson, Hillicker and Nig-tower.

HIGHS LOSE TO THE NORMALS 8 TO 6

The high school baseball team lost a ten inning game to the local normal school last Saturday afternoon on the high school campus. The score was 8 to 6 and it took ten innings to decide the game. Although McCahan pitched a good game for the highs, the normals were able to get to his benders for more hits than his teammates obtained off Allen. He also weakened at the close of the game, allowing four hits which clinched the game for the pedagogues. Weisner was the particular star for the highs. He obtained three hits at four times at bat and fielded in good style. Renner also did some good hitting for the highs, getting a single and a triple in three times up. Rolfe was the normal's batting star, getting four hits in five times up; Hatfield was the fielding star, accepting seven chances in center field without an error. These teams will meet again this week. The following is the game in detail:

Score: R H E
Normals . . . 0013002002—8 15 3
Highs . . . 1103000010—6 9 4
Batteries: Allen and Holmes; McCahan and Spellman.

PARCELS POST ANDERSON PLAN

Lanesboro Congressman
Has New Plan to Clip the Wings of Express Companies

RATES IN THREE CLASSES

Bill Provides for Rural Route Charges, City Delivery and Zone Rates

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Hon. Sydney Anderson, of Minnesota, has introduced in the House a bill providing for a parcel post law designed to lower all present rates of postage on parcels and to meet the objection of country merchants by establishing a zone system of rates. Mr. Anderson's bill was drawn with due regard for the fact that the social, commercial and political activities of the average individual are carried on within comparatively small areas, and that such activities decrease with the increased distance from the locality in which they are exercised practically in an inverse ratio as the cost of transportation increases.

Assuming as the immediate zone of these activities a fifty mile radius, the overhead charges on a parcel would amount to slightly over 4 cents a pound, and one cent per pound additional for transportation between any two points within the zone. Under existing laws the charge for this service is 16 cents per pound. The absurdity of the charge is at once apparent.

The Anderson measure makes three classes of rates, graduated to distance. First, a rural route service of five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional pound or fraction thereof. Second, a city delivery system limited to five cents for the first pound and two cents for each additional pound up to five pounds and one cent for each additional pound up to and including eleven pounds. Third, a zone system based on zones of 50, 200, 1,000, 1,800 and over 1,800 miles with rates as follows: In the 50 mile zone seven cents for the first pound and two cents for each additional pound, in the 200-mile zone eight cents for the first pound and three cents for each additional pound, in the 1,000-mile zone ten cents for the first pound and 6 cents for each additional pound, in the 1,800-mile zone twelve cents for the first pound and 9 cents for each additional pound, and a flat rate of twelve cents for parcels traveling over 1,800 miles. The weight limit is eleven pounds.

In addition to affording reasonable protection to the country merchant, this plan should provide him with cheap parcel delivery for rural routes. The bill empowers the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate postal rates in the zone system and recommend such changes as the conditions of the service warrant. Mr. Anderson believes that if his measure should become a law, it will result in clipping the wings of the now powerful and oppressing express companies; it will benefit the country merchants by giving them control of their respective communities as against the mail order houses and the merchants at a distance; and for the farmers and individuals generally it will lessen considerably the cost of transportation of parcels.

DON'T FEAR DEATH SAYS REV. SMITH
"A converted man does not fear death any more," said Rev. Oscar Smith at the West Avenue Methodist Episcopal church last night. "When that visitor comes, he will have to leave his treasures here—but he has still greater treasures yonder. He must leave his loved ones here—but a thousand years in heaven is but a day, and almost before he has had time to remember that he has left them behind—Lo! they shall have appeared also! The 'Valley of the Shadow' is not terrible to the Christian. As a man on the great American desert goes to sleep in his berth and wakes up the next morning with the rising of the sun and the singing of the birds, to view California roses and orange groves, so death is to the Christian only a sleep from which he presently awakes, to view the streets of the Celestial City glittering in golden sunshine."

Miss Marie Nowak, whose exquisite singing is already known to La Crosse people, and Rev. Ralph Carleton, who has been preaching in other places to overflowing congregations, and has seen a hundred or more converts in his meetings a single night, will arrive Thursday. In the meantime afternoon meetings will be held for Christians at 2:30 every day at the church, and the committee is arranging to have a large platform put in the tent for the chorus singers and evangelist, and comfortable opera chairs for the congregation. The tent will be kept warm, and will be brilliantly lighted with electricity. The boy preacher has arrived and will meet his chorus tonight at 7:30 at the church.

A Great Aid in the Dairy

Professor Dean's first advice to dairymen is—"Clean the pails, cans and separators thoroughly, at least once or twice a day."
Soap and water remove surface dirt but they do not thoroughly remove all the little germs which sour and taint the milk. The greatest of all cleansers is Gold Dust washing powder. It not only removes all the visible dirt and grease, but goes deep after every trace of impurity, and leaves the milk pails, cans and bottles really clean, wholesome and safe. Moreover, it does the work more quickly and easily than any other cleanser known.

PEORIA, Ill., April 29.—John Looney, publisher of the Rock Island News, a weekly newspaper which was the cause of the recent riots in that city, was arrested at Rock Island on Saturday and brought to this city on a federal indictment charging misuse of the mails. Myron W. Jordan, editor of the paper, also was indicted, and arrested.

AMERICAN GIRL TELLS OF PRISON

Miss Alice Wright, Prominent Artist, Imprisoned with Suffragettes in English Jail

TELLS OF HUNGER STRIKE

British Women Fed by Force when They Refused to Eat Fare of Holloway Prison

American woman's experience in British prison:
Served nearly two months for violence although she committed none.
Made an American flag from handkerchief only to have it confiscated.
Declares American embassy's function consists in defending persons in the interest of American voters only.
Participated in hunger strike and narrowly escaped forcible feeding.
Refused permission to either write or receive letters for nearly six weeks.
Saw women faint in chapel as result weakening experiences through being forcibly fed.
Refused freedom on condition that she agree to refrain from violence because she insisted she had committed none.

LONDON, April 29.—Just what treatment the suffragettes who were convicted of rioting in connection with the great demonstration of the militant element in London in February and March and received at the hands of the British prison officials in charge of noted Holloway jail today told to the people of the United States through the United Press by Miss Alice Wright, one of their number, Miss Wright is the daughter of a noted merchant of Albany, N. Y., and is a graduate of Smith college. For a number of years Miss Wright was prominent in society in Albany and then she went to Paris where she studied art. As a sculptor she earned by her own effort a recognized place in the world of art. Volunteering to do what she could for the "cause" Miss Wright went from Paris to London to take part in the demonstration which resulted in a wholesale window breaking. Then followed the arrest of more than 100 suffragettes, including Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, head of the militant organization, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Pethick Lawrence, joint editors of Votes for Women, who are now being prosecuted on a conspiracy charge. Miss Wright was convicted of disturbing the peace and served nearly all of a two months' sentence. She was released Thursday and prepared the following account of her experiences:

Her Story
(By Alice M. Wright, Albany, N. Y.)
During the entire time that I was in Holloway prison I was refused all permission to communicate with any one outside of the jail. It was not until April 19 that I was finally allowed to write to my mother and even then I was compelled to keep that letter for mailing until I was released from prison on Thursday.

While I was working at my profession in Paris on March 2, I read that the militant suffragettes in London were breaking windows to emphasize their displeasure over the shameful way in which the premier and his ministers had violated their duties and had refused even to permit parliament to consider the question of equal suffrage. Desiring to participate in the movement I hurried to London and volunteered my services. My motives are easily explained. I simply desired to share in the protest against the dishonorable treatment of the women. Our cause is not merely national, it is universal.

Started With Glass
We commenced our protest in America against taxation without representation with tea and, therefore, it seemed reasonable for us to commence with glass in England. On March 4, accompanied by two suffragette companions who were armed with hammers and stones I went to the Kensington postoffice. They broke the windows there. Although I had a stone I did not use it, merely carrying it as an evidence of my protest against existing conditions. I did not wish personally to destroy British property as I was not a British subject.

After being arraigned in court and sentenced, I with eighteen others, was conveyed to Holloway in the Black Maria, the prison van. Enroute we sang the Votes for Women song set to the Marseillaise.

After the entrance preliminaries we were hurried into cells. We communicated with our fellow suffragettes by means of brown paper megaphones through the window gratings. From a prearranged plan for the first week I did only the briefest daily exercise and refused either to attend chapel or to work and no attempt was made to have us do anything.

Flag Confiscated
Later I with others did some light work such as sewing and knitting and thereby I earned the remission of one-sixth of my sentence. I made an American flag from a handkerchief, getting the red striping by using dye from a book cover and the blue field from portions of my clothing. I placed only six stars in the corner instead of the usual forty-eight, one each for the suffrage states, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming and California. One of the wardresses confiscated it.

The prison discipline was remarkably reasonable, and the officials for the most part acted in a considerate manner as far as they could in consideration of their duties. Naturally there are prison rules imposed by a tyrannical government that cannot be set aside by the officials. But in many cases they winked at the hard labor clauses in certain sentences and also made no protest against suffragettes who were able to purchase food from the outside sharing that food with their fellows who had been condemned to rigid prison discipline of hard labor and the prison fare. I think, however, that the real reason for this was the desire to avert a demonstration as it was known that many of the women were secretly fasting.

Fed Forcibly
The general hunger strike, which was participated in by every suffragette in the prison, was declared for the purpose of protesting against the government's refusal to make concessions which would give us recognition as political prisoners. On the second afternoon the forcible feeding began.

My case was marked by the prison doctor as one where forcible feeding was to be put into effect but fortunately the government made material concessions and the strike was called off and I was spared such an experience. On April 19 I was given all the letters which had accumulated for six weeks including the United Press request for a statement.

Last Sunday at chapel the service was so long that many of the women fainted. They were those who had been subjected to the forcible feeding and were in a generally weakened condition by that dreadful experience.

Mother on Scene
Meanwhile alarmed at the press reports, my mother had hastened to England from our home in Albany and had applied to the United States embassy to secure my release. She also asked to be permitted to see me and was told that she would be allowed to visit me only on condition that I promise not to participate in any further demonstrations. Naturally I refused to make any such agreement. Next day my mother applied in person to the British home office and she was granted permission to see me immediately.

If the United States embassy made any attempt to secure my unconditional release I am not aware of it. While I do not wish to impute absolute incompetency to the embassy, I must suppose its functions consist in defending persons in the interest of American voters only.

The home office offered to release me on condition that I agree not to commit any willful damage in the future.

SOCK BANK FAILS TO HIDE SAVINGS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 29.—Frantically appealing to the police to aid him, Alexander Ludka, who had no faith in national banks for money depositors, rushed into the police station and reported the loss of several hundred dollars—the savings of years. Ludka was absent from home for a brief time Friday night. He left his savings securely tied in a sock and hidden in a bureau drawer. When he returned it was gone.

BANDIT LEADER IS KILLED BY ARMY

Head of "Phantom Bandit" Band of Paris Is Killed After Battle with 2,000 Soldiers

DEFIES POLICE TO THE END

Although Shot in the Heart
He Lives Short Time and Defies Police with Last Gasp

PARIS, April 29.—The last of the phantom bandits, Garnier, chief lieutenant of Bonnot, was arrested here late tonight. He was surprised in his room and gave up without a fight.

PARIS, April 29.—The funeral of Assistant Superintendent Jouin of the Paris detective force victim of the first clash with Bonnot, leader of the phantom bandits, who was himself killed in a battle with the police yesterday, took place today. It was made the occasion for a remarkable turnout of the comrades of the murdered officer.

Died Defiant
The doctors at the Hotel Dieu hospital, where the bandit chieftain died, after being brought terribly wounded from the battle of Choisy le Roi, were outspoken in their wonder today that he lived at all after the first wound he received. It was made by an army rifle bullet and traversed the envelope of the heart, passing out at the back under the arm. He was also wounded five times in the head. There were a few other wounds in the body but they would not have proved fatal. Yet Bonnot, unable to talk, plainly snarled and tried to yell his defiance to the police after he was taken from the debris and did not cease his efforts to make himself heard until he became unconscious from loss of blood. He was unique in his crimes and unique in death. The "under world" of Paris has today placed him on a pedestal.

This fact is causing police apprehension because it is believed that Garnier, the youth who was Bonnot's chief assistant, will be able to recruit a new band from among the most desperate of French criminals.

After Lieutenant
The search today is being pushed for Garnier and the police feel certain that he is being shielded by anarchists, a colony of whom have their headquarters in Choisy le Roi. Orders have been issued that he is to be taken dead or alive.

That Bonnot and his aide Dubois, proprietor of the garage in which both later met death should have been able to withstand the assault of some 2,000 armed men including detachments of the Republican guard, a corps of engineers and a detachment of artillery amazed everyone and there was a general disposition to criticize the officials for this fact.

MINNY LEAGUE TO PLAY 90 GAMES
President Elliott's Schedule Adopted and Outcasts Will Open the Season at Rochester

The ninety game schedule as drawn up by President John A. Elliott of the Minny league was adopted as drawn up at a meeting of the league directors at Winona yesterday.

La Crosse will open the season at Rochester where they will play on May 14, 15 and 16, and from there they go to Winona for a three game series beginning on May 17. The Outcasts will open the season at La Crosse on May 21 with Winona and a three game series will be played. Rochester comes here May 24, 25 and 26 after which the Outcasts again go on the road for three games at Eau Claire beginning May 27. The Outcasts will play here on Decoration Day with the Eau Claire club as the attraction for two games. La Crosse is scheduled to play at Eau Claire on the Fourth of July as each team is given one of the holiday games at home.

The question of the salary limit for the league was thoroughly discussed by the directors and as a result this rule will be rigidly enforced this year. It was decided to place the salary limit at $1,100 and all clubs must be within this limit on May 20. To be certain that no club is beyond the limit, each team is to be compelled to file affidavits as to what salaries have been paid to players with the league president two days after the first and fifteenth of every month and failure to comply with this provision will result in a fine of $100 for the offender.

The Spalding baseball was adopted as the official ball of the Minny league for this season.

Pitcher Betzel of Prescott arrived in the city today to try out for the team, and Blank, a north side twirler, is also working out with the squad as is also Spencer, a first baseman, from the north side.

MANY WAIT FOR THE DEAD

Stricken Relatives Haunt Pier Eager to Claim Bodies of Those Who Went with Titanic

HALIFAX, April 29.—The Mackay-Bennett with the Titanic victims on board may not reach here until 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Captain Lardner today sent a wireless to the White Star agents here announcing that he is being delayed by raw weather. He fixed 9 o'clock tomorrow as the earliest that he can expect to make this port with his cargo of dead.

More than a hundred of those who kept vigil were waiting in nervous impatience to find out if among the pitifully few unidentified bodies aboard the Mackay-Bennett was the loved one they had come to seek. Out of this gloomy gathering, in the chill of a Nova Scotia morning but few will find even the small comfort of taking away their dead. For up to today almost all of the bodies on the ship had been identified. About 225 bodies, according to the wireless reports had been picked up by the Mackay-Bennett and her consort, the Minio. Of these about 180 had been identified and their names had been posted by the White Star offices here.

Hope for Best
But stricken men and women clung desperately to the hope that among the few bodies, unnamed on the Mackay-Bennett was the loved one they feared, yet longed to see.

The mark of the watchers was a black bordered, printed announcement issued by the White Star line bearing grim instructions outlining the red tape that would be necessary to identify bodies.

Captain Lardner had but 100 coffins aboard the vessel and he was carrying the remainder of his death cargo packed in ice and wrapped in burlap and canvas. These bodies, as soon as they reached the dock, the authorities planned to place in coffins. They were then to be hurried into the city, the identified dead to a local undertaker and the unidentified dead to a local skating rink, temporarily transformed into a morgue. There they were to be embalmed, placed in caskets and exposed to view.

Few More Bodies
That very few more bodies of Titanic victims will be recovered was emphasized today in another message from the Western Union cable steamer, the Minia, which took up the search where the Mackay-Bennett, now en route to Halifax, left off. The message was given out at the White Star offices here follows: "Covered ground between 41.20 and 41.50, latitude, 49.25 and 49.00 longitude. Thus far only 13 bodies. Steamers passing say none seen. Shall search south and east Monday. Can give no hope to relatives that missing will be found. Icebergs near the place from 41.50 to 41.12 latitude; longitude 49 moving south fast."

NEW YORK, April 29.—The danger of a strike in the locomotive engineers in the eastern section of the country became grave this afternoon when Grand Chief Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, served notice on the federal commissioners that his organization demanded definite action. FISHERMEN SEND MAN TO MADISON

Commercial Men Will Oppose Unfavorable Legislation at This Session

ORGANIZATION COMPLETED

Closed Season Clause in the Proposed Amendments Amendments Meets
with Opposition

Taking the stand that not enough time has been given the preparation of the proposed amendments to the game and fish laws which will be offered at the special session of the legislature which will meet tomorrow, the commercial fishermen will oppose any new legislation along this line at this session. This line of action was decided upon at the first meeting of the Commercial Fishermen's Union of the Upper Mississippi River Valley in the court house Saturday evening.

The meeting was called for the purpose of completing the organization which had its inception in La Crosse several weeks ago. About thirty-five market fishermen were present. These carried the proxies of fishermen living along the river from Pepin to Dubuque so that about 150 fishermen were represented.

After the election of officers and the selection of La Crosse as headquarters for the new association, matters pertaining to the market fishermen's interest were taken up and acted upon. As a result of the meeting J. M. Axtell was sent to Madison to work against any unfavorable legislation. He arrived in Madison this morning. The clause in the La Crosse County Hunting and Fishing association's proposed amendments, which would establish a closed season for net and seine fishing on the river and its tributary waters from April 15 to July 1, is particularly objectionable to the market fishermen and a strong attempt will be made to prevent its passage at this session.

Officers Elected
The following officers were elected at the meeting Saturday: President, J. M. Newcomb, Pepin; vice-president, George Gay, New Albion; secretary, Fred Caya, Lynxville; treasurer, Frank Gillette, Genoa. J. M. Axtell and Frank Gillette were elected traveling representatives of the association. The following were elected as members of the executive committee: Dave Gantenben, Diamond Bluff; Charles Sharp, Bay City; Nels Rasmussen, Pepin; William Heming, Fountain City; Michael Lapinsky, Winona; George Holzhammer, La Crosse; Joseph Williams, Jr., Brownsville; John Franzlin, Genoa; Peter Reiss, Genoa; Louis Talley, Stoddard; Charles Kester, New Albion; William Koch, Ferryville, and Marion Wing, Lynxville.

A vigorous campaign will be waged from now until next fall for the purpose of strengthening the organization and it is expected that the membership will reach the 300 mark in the near future. The Union will include members from Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa. One of the principal objects of the organization will be to endeavor to procure uniform legislation in regard to game and fish laws in the three states.

WILL SPEAK ON THE COMPENSATION ACT

J. D. Beck of the state industrial commission will address a meeting of the unions and manufacturers of La Crosse in the council chamber in the city hall probably tomorrow night. The date of the meeting has not been set definitely because of the fact that Leonard Kleeber, superintendent of the La Crosse branch of the state labor bureau who has the meeting in charge, has been unable to get a definite statement from Mr. Beck as to his arrival in this city. It is probable, however, that the meeting will be held within two or three days. Mr. Beck will speak on the workmen's compensation act and industrial insurance. The subject will be of particular interest here because of the fact that several of the manufacturers of the city have failed as yet to elect to come under the act.

SEES A FIGHT ON INCOME TAX

MADISON, Wis., April 29.—That the special session of the state legislature which convenes tomorrow will be the opening of a most bitter and protracted fight for the repeal of the recently enacted income tax law, was the statement here today of a legislator who claims he has positive information to this effect. According to the plan, says this member, a resolution will be introduced at the opening session, calling for the immediate adjournment of both houses until such time as the governor issues another call in which the income tax law will be slated for discussion.

$170,000 TO BE SPENT ON RIVER

Captain Thompson Announces Great Improvements on This Section of Mississippi

FIRST EXCURSION ON JUNE 8

Steamer G. W. Hill to Lead Excursion Traffic From La Crosse This Summer

With $170,000 to spend on river improvement between Winona and the Wisconsin river, Captain W. A. Thompson, government engineer predicts the best river season in years. During the coming summer $1,250,000 will be divided among the different engineers of the Mississippi river under the direction of the War Department for use in improving the river channel.

Nearly all of the money allotted to this section will be spent on wing dams according to Mr. Thompson who today declared that he expects to start the work within a week. The high stage of the river during the last month has been responsible for the delay but as soon as it drops sufficiently the government dredge and boats will be put into service.

During the last week, several of the government steamers which have been in winter quarters at Fountain City, were inspected and overhauled by the government inspector and are now ready for service. The entire improvement work is under the direction of Major Keller, Rock Island and who has also allotted $170 for the improvement of the river between Winona and St. Paul.

The first excursion date announced by any steamboat line on the upper Mississippi for La Crosse is that of the Wisard line whose steamer "G. W. Hill" will make an excursion trip from here to Winona and return June 8. This excursion will be under the auspices of the First Baptist church of this city.

The Steamer G. W. Hill which is now being remodeled is one of the best equipped and largest excursion boat that has ever been used on the upper river. The steamer is 190 feet long and thirty-six feet wide with a cabin of 120 feet by thirty. It is equipped with a steam callopie and an orchestra has been engaged for the season.

This steamer was formerly used on the lower river, owing to several changes in the schedule of the Wisard company it has been transferred to the upper section. Several other steamboat lines will schedule excursions from this city during the summer and a prosperous river season is anticipated.

A. E. Wisard, traveling passenger agent of the Wisard company and brother of B. W. Wisard, who is well known by river men in this section, arrived here today from St. Louis to complete excursion dates. Thus far six excursions have been scheduled for the G. W. Hill and it is probable that other dates will be made.

OUTCASTS SHOW CLASS IN GAME

Easily Defeat Yannigan
Bunch; Bond Releases
Four Men; New Pitcher Coming

The regulars, candidates for positions on the Outcast team, defeated the Yannigans with ease in the first game of the season at League park yesterday afternoon, counting up five tallies to one annexed by their opponents.

During the entire game the applicants to the Outcasts' payroll showed superior class and team work, leaving the Yans fighting hopelessly against certain defeat. The regulars registered nine hits off Nally and Boyle to three gathered in by the Yans. Both teams played a fair game from the point of errors, the Yans leading two to one. Kane and Brown both showed up well in the box.

Manager Carl Bond today announced the release of the Klein brothers, who have been trying out for the first and second sack positions. Chester Allen and Al Klein, a brother of Eddie Klein, who have been on the list as outfielders, were also released. Pitcher Betzel of Prescott, who tried out with the Outcasts during the early part of last season, is expected to arrive here tonight and Van Horn of the Terre Haute first sacker will probably arrive tomorrow.

N. House, the clever little third sacker, who has been a member of the Caledonia Commercial during the last three years, although young, will probably develop into a first class man and stands a good chance of remaining with the Outcasts this season. He was not given an opportunity to display his work in yesterday's game, failing to get a chance during the entire game.

Man's favorite brand of love is usually the latest. A man feels, about being a good example, just the way a boy does about wearing curls.

EVANGELIST SAYS CAN ALL YOU GET

Beadles Talks on Church
Denominational Prejudice at First Methodist Revival

"Instead of using the motto 'Get all you can,' try 'Can all you get,'" is the advice given those in attendance at the Beadles-Fischer evangelistic services held at the First Methodist church yesterday evening. Mr. Beadles gave a forceful talk on church denominational prejudice and declared that the man who is always asserting that his right church is far behind the times and narrow minded in his views.

"All churches are alright and instead of condemning the other churches all should co-operate in the movement toward moral reform," he declared.

In concluding his sermon he said that while the church is doing good work it is not doing its best and urged all to join in a fight to save souls.

The Evangelistic speakers will give a series of sermons at the First Methodist church this week. The topics upon which they will speak are:

Monday night—Revival of Religion.

Tuesday afternoon—Partnership with God.

Tuesday evening—God's Colts and Some of the Devils Hitching Posts.

Wednesday afternoon—Fishers of Men.

Wednesday evening—Brickbats and Bouquets.

Thursday afternoon—Getting Men Into the Kingdom of God or Getting the Kingdom of God Into Men.

My Lady Nicotine Unwelcome In Zion

WAUKEGAN, Ill., April 29.—A brand new sign today tells the world about Zion City that "tobacco is dirty, diabolical, degrading, detestable, disgusting and demoralizing."

The sign is new because the old one was burned Saturday night by persons whom Overseer Voliva has called "dirty, stinking Chicago bums." Also generous quantities of black paint was spread over a 12 by 14 foot bulletin board on the edge of Zion City which bore a message to "tobacco skunks." The men of Zion City would not work on Sunday so the work of rebuilding the sign was begun at midnight. Voliva will continue his efforts today to learn who damaged his signs.

"I'm after Lady Nicotine and I'll lick her and King Alcohol to a frazzle," said the leader of the flock today.

"I'd rather kiss a hog than any man who chews tobacco. And chewing tobacco is only a little worse than chewing gum. When the devil couldn't interest women in tobacco, he invented chewing gum."

A man can respect the judgment of his office boy in lots of things, but never that of his wife in anything.

With wireless politics, many politicians would be unable to connect.

AVIATOR KILLED BREAKING RECORD

Falls 700 Feet While Trying to Set New Record Between Two French
Cities

PARIS, April 29.—Jules Vedrines, probably the most noted of French aviators remaining in competition, is believed to be dying in Lari Boislere hospital here. His mania for speed is responsible for his fatal injuries, he having declared only a couple of days ago that, having once attained 100 miles an hour in the air he could never expect again to be satisfied with a lower rate.

Vedrines was endeavoring to create a new record between Douai and Madrid. He was flying at a rate which is believed to have been very nearly 100 miles an hour when something went wrong with the machinery of his high powered aeroplane and it collapsed. He fell 700 feet, landing directly in front of the Epinal railway station.

He was hurried to the hospital, where it was stated that he had a compound fracture of the skull at the base and top, and internal injuries which are almost certain to result in death.

Half a dozen of the best surgeons in France operated on Vedrines at one o'clock this afternoon. At the conclusion of the operation they said that their patient had rallied somewhat and that he may have a chance to recover.

General regret at the accident is expressed, although the experienced aviator attribute it entirely to the aviator's own recklessness. In all of his recent flights he has astounded his comrades by the speed and daring of his flights. His engines have been the highest powered possible of manufacture and his aeroplanes have been much larger than any other aviator dared use.

ALIBI IS TAFT'S REPLY TO TRUST CHARGES OF T. R.

ter general in the Roosevelt administration, has not been quoted.

Admits Taft's Claim

HAVERHILL, Mass., April 29.—Admitting that President Taft might not have been present, as secretary or war, at the cabinet meeting which approved his action in side-tracking the Harvester trust prosecution, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, in a lengthy statement this afternoon issued his charge that Taft had full knowledge of the entire situation.

"When he came back from his trip abroad, I went over with him this case and others," said the former president. "The action which, after three years of inaction, he actually took last week must have been taken in collusion with the Lorimer-Democratic senator who introduced the resolution and could only have been taken with a view to the effect on the Massachusetts primaries."

Roosevelt then bitterly assailed the president for attempting to make political capital out of the subject.

J. H. POWELL IS BURIED IN LA CROSSE

The funeral of John H. Powell, who died in Chicago Friday morning, was held from Miller Brothers' undertaking parlors this morning at 11 o'clock, and was largely attended. Rev. Faville officiated at the services. Interment was made in Oak Grove cemetery.

Mr. Powell was 48 years old. He was the brother of Mrs. Charles P. Williams, who formerly lived in this city, but who now resides in Minneapolis, and of H. R. Powell of St. Charles, Ill.

VIADUCT PLAN MAY BE CHEAPER

City Attorney Schubert
Declares Five Streets
Would Be Affected
Elevation

The city of La Crosse will not escape the heavy expense attached to the erection of the Rose street viaduct even though the railroad commission should decide to order the elevation of the Milwaukee railroad tracks, according to City Attorney A. H. Schubert.

Mr. Schubert today declared that if the viaduct proposition was abandoned and the elevated track plan ordered, the city will be forced to lower five streets in order to leave a sufficient distance between the streets and the track for passage of vehicles and that this will cost about the same as the city's share of the construction of the viaduct.

There is little doubt but that the commission will reopen the hearing as petitioned by the special committee of the city council and it is probably that the elevated plan will be advocated by the city. Aldermen declare that the elevated plan is the best as it will provide the north side with five safe crossings instead of one and do away with the inconvenience which would be caused by having steep approaches to the viaduct.

MINNY LEAGUE TO PLAY 90 GAMES

President Elliott's Schedule
Adopted and Outcasts
Will Open the Season at Rochester

The ninety game schedule as drawn up by President John A. Elliott of the Minny league was adopted as drawn up at a meeting of the league directors at Winona yesterday.

La Crosse will open the season at Rochester where they will play on May 14, 15 and 16, and from there they go to Winona for a three game series beginning on May 17. The Outcasts will open the season at La Crosse on May 21 with Winona and a three game series will be played. Rochester comes here May 24, 25 and 26 after which the Outcasts again go on the road for three games at Eau Claire beginning May 27. The Outcasts will play here on Decoration Day with the Eau Claire club as the attraction for two games. La Crosse is scheduled to play at Eau Claire on the Fourth of July as each team is given one of the holiday games at home.

The question of the salary limit for the league was thoroughly discussed by the directors and as a result this rule will be rigidly enforced this year. It was decided to place the salary limit at $1,100 and all clubs must be within this limit on May 20. To be certain that no club is beyond the limit, each team is to be compelled to file affidavits as to what salaries have been paid to players with the league president two days after the first and fifteenth of every month and failure to comply with this provision will result in a fine of $100 for the offender.

Pitcher Betzel of Prescott arrived in the city today to try out for the team, and Blank, a north side twirler, is also working out with the squad as is also Spencer, a first baseman, from the north side.

Nobody will listen to advice that he doesn't have to pay for as professional opinion.

Chicago Grain Letter

CHICAGO, April 29.—Good rains over the entire west, including Kansas and the far southwest brought wheat prices down for a time today. July wheat touched $1.11, a decline of 2 1/2c from Saturday's close. The rain was badly needed, as recent reports from Kansas told of dust storms. Foreign advices were a little on the side of buyers at the start. Wheat and flour prices were marked up in Paris. Resting orders took the wheat offerings at today's low figures and the prices quickly recovered.

ed to about Saturday's closing figures.

Corn futures took on fresh strength, cold, wet weather over the corn belt being adverse at this time.

Oats offerings were heavy at a fraction above Saturday's prices.

Provisions opened weak, but made rapid and considerable gains during the day.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

The hustling White Sox went into double figures when they lengthened their lead by walloping the Tigers.
Cobb struck out twice but the Tigers got to Lange in the sixth and Callahan derricked him to keep the lead.
Cincinnati came right back at Pittsburg and broke the tie for first place as the Giants were kept idle.
Pittsburg lifted Hendrix to let Donlin bat for him and Mike struck out.
Then the Reds landed hard on O'Toole in the ninth and put the game on ice.

"Everybody's doing it" to the Highlanders, the Baltimore international leaders taking the cellar champions of the American into camp, 8 to 2.

Teams which have scored in double figures so far this season are:
American league: Detroit and Chicago, twice each; Boston, St. Louis, Detroit and Washington, National;
New York, Cincinnati, Philadelphia and St. Louis, twice each, Pittsburg.

As an excuse for the great showing so far of the Reds, losing teams are all Hank O'Day is utilizing the information about batters that he annexed during the time he held the indicator in the big shows.

WOULD MATCH AD AND M'FARLAND

NEW YORK, April 29.—Tim Hurst, manager of the Garden Athletic club, is in touch with Ad Wolgast and his manager, and will try to frame a ten round go here between Wolgast and Packey McFarland. The latter has gone back to Chicago with the easiest $10,000 he ever earned, the spoils of his bout with Matt Wells. If he and Wolgast can be matched here they will draw better than a $50,000 gate, according to the experts.

FATHER OF WESTERN BASEBALL IS DEAD

ROCKFORD, Ill., April 29.— Hundreds here and over the entire sporting world today are mourning the death of Hiram Waldo, "father of the Forest City team," and one of the most influential men in the development of early baseball in the middle west. Mr. Waldo was called "Rockford's grand old man" by A. G.
Spalding. It was under his management that Spalding became a star pitcher and gained a national reputation. He was the discoverer of Adrian C. Anson, who brought the star to Rockford to play third base.
He had lived in this city sixty-six years.

BRITTON MAKES TRIPLE ARREST

Patrolman M. Britton made a triple arrest this morning when Ed Harvey, Robert Louis and William Brown, three tramps, attempted to sell brass to Louis Natusohn. Britton's suspicions were aroused when upon his approach, he says, the three men ducked into an alleyway, one carrying a sack. He followed them and as they were about to sell the brass he placed them under arrest. At central police station they declared they had found the brass along a railroad track, but three large burrs bearing duplicate numbers impressed upon them which Patrolman Britton found in the heap, ends to discredit their statement.

PAY LAST TRIBUTE TO JOHN BARRY

Many friends and relatives paid their last tribute to the memory of John Barry, former resident of La Crosse, who died at Davenport, Ia., whose funeral was held from Fessler and Dahl's undertaking parlors at 8:30 Saturday morning and from St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock.
Rev. Lynch officiated at the services.

The pallbearers were Ben Voltz, Frank Roth, Chris Burns, Dan Murphy, Joseph Boschert and Phil Mc-Mahon. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery.

INCOME TAX REVENUE WILL FALL SHORT

The income tax will not raise an amount of revenue equal to that which will be lost by the exemption of personal property in La Crosse county according to Income Tax Assessor J. E. Kelzer. Mr. Kelzer today declared that the amount that will be raised by taxing the income of individuals will be less than $25, 000 and the amount from corporations will be a great deal smaller.
He asserts that the county will lose $50,000 by the exemption of personal property.

CLOTHIERS OPEN SEASON SATURDAY

To Meet Winona Pirates in Exhibition Game and to Play Sacred Heart Sunday

The La Crosse Clothing company baseball team is looking forward to another successful season on the diamond this year as they have an aggregation which appears to be even stronger than that of last year.

Chalsma, a great pitcher from Holmen, and Griffin, catcher who formerly played with the normal school, have been signed to play with the Clothing company this season and this battery is undoubtedly one of the strongest in the city. Art Peterson, who was elected captain after We'gent left to try out with the Outcasts, will cover the shortstop position this year instead of pitching.
The rest of the lineup will probably be the same as last year's for the team is capable of putting up a fast game.

The Clothings are billed to open the season next Saturday when they meet the Winona Pirates in an exhibition game at Winona. On the following day the locals will play the fast Sacred Heart College team at Prairie du Chien. They will cross bats with the Outcasts on Sunday, May 12 at League Park, while on the next Sunday they have arranged to bring the Pioneers of Milwaukee here for a game. The Pioneers are one of the strongest semi-pro nine in Milwaukee and this game will doubtless prove one of the most interesting of the season. The schedule for the Clothings is one of the hardest the team has ever undertaken but they expect to finish the season with a good record.

The team gave its third annual dance at Linker hall Saturday night and it proved a success in every way.
A large crowd was in attendance and dancing continued until one o'clock.

W. B. U. MEAT FOR SACRED HEART TEAM

In a one-sided game the Sacred Heart college baseball team defeated the W. B. U. team at Prairie du Chien Saturday by the score of 16 to 3. Hard hitting in the first and third innings when the collegians counted eight and six times respectively gave them an early and commanding lead.

O'Day, the W. B. U. pitcher, was driven from the slab at the end of the first inning after twelve men had faced him. Anderson took up the pitching for the locals after the initial round but Sacred Heart solved his delivery in the third round when six men crossed the pan.

Shiebel pitched a steady game for the collegians and the W. B. U.
could hit him safely but four times.
He was wild at times and the runs scored off him were due to a wild pitch, bases on balls and errors.

Score by innings: R H E
Sacred Heart, 80620000—16 13 4
W. B. U., 000101001—3 4 7
Batteries: Shiebel and Schneider; O'Day, Anderson and Durry.

MOHA SOLID IN NEW YORK RING

NEW YORK, April 29.—Bob Moha, the Milwaukee scrapper, who has jumped into unprecedented popularity here by his clever work, will try to show up Bill McKinnon of Boston before the St. Nicholas club Tuesday night. Moha can have anything he wants here and if Frank Klaus makes a good showing against Dillon, he will probably be forced to try out the beer champion.

BADGERS BEAT CHINESE TEAM

MADISON, Wis., April 29.—A timely single to left by Bragg, the Badger first baseman, enabled the University of Wisconsin to win Saturday's battle against the all-Chinese team of Honolulu in the tenth inning. Score: R H E
All-Chinese . . . 0000340000—7 9 7
Wisconsin . . . 0006000011—8 10 3
Batteries: K'Yen, Asam and L.
Lien; Wheeler, Savage and Brewer, Roberts.

MISSOURI BARS MORRIS

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 29.— Carl Morris, the Oklahoma white hope, will not be permitted to show his paces in Missouri. Governor Hadley has notified the Springfield authorities that unless they take measures to prevent the fight between Morris and Luther McCarthy, scheduled for May 2, the executive office will interfere.

Southwest States

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 29.—Thirty-one persons are reported to have been killed by a tornado which swept southwestern Oklahoma and the southeastern corner of the Texas Panhandle.

Telegraph and telephone wires are down throughout the storm-swept district, and it is impossible to confirm the report or estimate the great property loss.

The Fatalities

The fatalities are reported as follows:
Tugert, Okla., 15; Eldorado, Okla., 4; Calumet, Okla., 3; Kirkland, Tex., 7; near Altus, Okla., 2.
Half of the residences and business properties in Tugert and Rocky are said to be in ruins. No deaths were reported from Yukon Warren, Martha, Blair and Lone Wolf, but the storm touched them. Thirty buildings were destroyed at Kirkland and a Rock island work train blown from the tracks.

Train Reported Derailed

A special train sent from Altus with physicians and nurses when it was reported a passenger train had been blown from the rails picked up ten injured persons. Two of these,
Mrs. Lee Stansland and Miss Eva
Stansland died on the train.

It was reported a Kansas City & Orient train had been blown from the track and twenty persons killed, but it developed that but two cars had been derailed. No one was injured.

The tornado started just across the Texas border and first killed seven persons at Kirkland and then swept northward.

TO SHOW HIS GAIT

NEW YORK, April 29.—Frank Klaus, the Pittsburg fighter who now claims the middleweight title, will show in Madison Square garden next Friday night. His opponent will be Jack Dillon of Indianapolis and on the grounds that the Smoky City general displays will depend the amount of respect local fight fans pay to his championship claims.

JOHNSON STARTS WORK
CHICAGO, April 29.—Jack Johnson, home from Pittsburg, will begin tomorrow taking light exercise in preparation for the heavier training which is to follow for his match

HYDE TO CAPTAIN NORMAL QUINTET

At a meeting of the members of the Normal school basketball team last week, Charles Hyde was elected captain for the year 1912-13. Hyde played center on this year's team and should prove a good leader in next year's basketball. Marcus Byers was elected in the election with Hyde and it required a toss of the coin to determine the winner.

DAHL AND OLBRICH GO TO HELP BOB

MADISON, Wis., April 29.—Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Dahl and Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Olbrich of this city, left Saturday for California, where Mr.
Dahl and Mr. Olbrich will take part in a two weeks' speaking campaign in behalf of Senator La Follette, the progressive republican candidate for president.

ing for a match with Packey McFarland, is to get his chance. A report from Indianapolis says a match has been arranged between Bronson and McFarland to be decided in that city May 29. They will meet for ten rounds, the weight to be decided after the first round. They will meet for battle. They fought to a twenty-round draw at New Orleans, September
